RIC Keeps Setting Records

RIC keeps trending up! For the third year in a row, Richmond International Airport (RIC) set new annual records for passenger traffic and cargo volume. The airport served over 4.9 million passengers and handled about 223 million pounds of cargo in 2025.

“The growth in our numbers demonstrates the Richmond region’s desire for convenient, customer-forward air travel options, and we’re pleased they are choosing Richmond International Airport,” said Perry J. Miller, Ph.D., A.A.E., I.A.P., president and CEO of the Capital Region Airport Commission. “Whether we’re helping people get safely to their destination or handling their packages with care, our team at RIC is focused on customer experience and operational excellence with the goal of being the region’s preferred gateway to the world.”

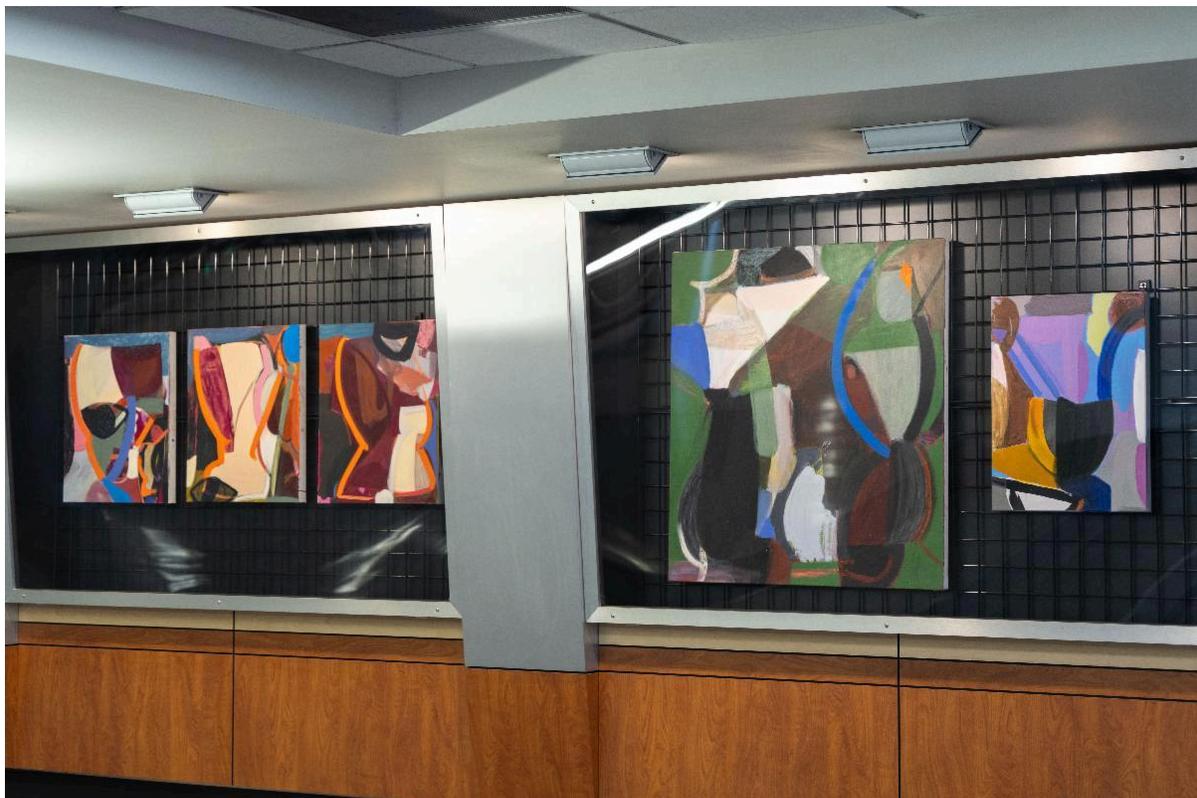

A big thanks to Team RIC for keeping our airport efficient and friendly during these increased levels of traffic. Records being broken year after year doesn't happen without a great team!

Art at the Airport

A new exhibition from the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts has arrived at RIC. Take in these striking works by Charlottesville artist Sarah Boyts Yoder, recipient of the 2014–2015 Professional VMFA Fellowship.

Boyts Yoder's paintings are playful refusals of the world's false sense of inevitability and separateness. Drawing from emblems and symbols she has generated over time, each work conveys how art can evade our need for categorization. Boyts Yoder sees painting as a hopeful, optimistic act and the mode of abstraction as an exploratory state of being.

The new exhibition can be viewed at baggage claim carousels 1 and 6. Come enjoy these colorful paintings right here in our airport!

Where Are You Headed for Spring Break?

Spring break is on the horizon! Have you locked in your plans?

There are nearly 40 nonstop destinations from RIC, giving you options from the Rocky Mountains all the way to the Caribbean. Each year brings more choices for travelers, making it easy to see why our airport is the region's preferred gateway to the world.
